Velkommen

Vi byder hermed publikum og konkurrencedeltagerne velkommen til den 6. afholdte Lied-Duo-Competition i København. Over tre dage vil 12 udvalgte duoer, repræsentanter fra en lang række lande, konkurrere i et bredt Lied-repertoire, og ikke mindst sætte fokus på selve Lied-kunsten.

Konkurrencen er åben for alle stemmetyper, men er netop en duo-konkurrence: Det vokale og det pianistiske bliver vurderet på lige fod. Det er med andre ord den samlede musikalske fremførelse, dommerpanelet tager stilling til. Vi kommer til at opleve, at den kunstneriske intimitet og det fælles udtryk forvandler konkurrencesituationen til en serie af indholdsrige koncerter.

Det kan næppe anfægtes, at især operakunsten har en bred folkelig appel, men i musikkens forunderlige verden er der visse særligt følsomme områder, som synes at kalde på komponistens inderste følelser. Man kan fremhæve strygekvartetten i lige så høj grad som Lied-kunsten. Her har igennem århundreder de største komponister ladet sig inspirere maksimalt, ofte sat i gang af tilsvarende beåndede digtere.

Ved Copenhagen Lied-Duo-Competition er der også sat særligt fokus på danske sange sunget på dansk, og det bliver spændende at registrere, hvordan den danske ”tone” blander sig med den centraleuropæiske tradition og tilmed yderligere med en række nyere Lieder.

De to første konkurrencerunder bliver afholdt på DKDMs Studiescene, kendt for sin fremragende akustik, og selve finalekoncerten kan høres i DKDM-koncertsalen, et rum som har lagt akustik til de største sangere og pianister gennem mange årtier.

Velkommen til publikum og ikke mindst velkommen til de dygtige og udvalgte konkurrencedeltagere.

Juryformand, Copenhagen Lied-Duo Competition

Welcome

We hereby welcome the audience and our competition participants to the sixth international Copenhagen Lied Duo Competition. Across three exciting days, 12 selected duos representing many different countries will compete in a broad Lied repertoire, focusing on the specific art of Lied.

The competition is a duo contest where the vocalist and the pianist are assessed on equal terms as an ensemble. In other words, the jury will evaluate the musical performance as a whole. The audience will experience the artistic intimacy and musical expression, which in return will turn the competition into a series of content-rich concerts.

Opera has had a broad and popular appeal for hundreds of years. In the world of music, however, there are certain particularly sensitive areas, which seem to stir the composer's innermost emotions. One emphasis can be placed on the string quartet, and another on the art of Lied. Over centuries, the greatest composers in music history have been inspired to write Lieder, often ignited by brilliant poems.

In the Copenhagen Lied Duo Competition special attention will be paid to the Danish Lied sung in Danish, and it will be exciting to explore how the "Danish light" blends with the central European tradition and even further with a number of contemporary Lieder.

The first two rounds will take place at the Royal Danish Academy of Music's Studio Hall, known for its excellent acoustics. The final concert takes place in the Concert Hall, which has lent its acoustics to both some of the greatest singers and pianists over many decades.

Welcome to the audience and to the talented and selected competition artists.
